

College of Education
University of South Carolina

Teachers on the Global Stage

The surprising educational connections between Romania and South Carolina and their prospects for the future.

FRIDAY
September
28

4 p.m. – 5:30 p.m.

Wardlaw College, 820 Main Street, Columbia, SC 29208
Room 126

NOTE: Teachers may be traveling from out of town: we expect and welcome late arrivals! Please do not be deterred—we want you!

Reception to Follow

South Carolina is a global state, from our industry to our classrooms. Nearly 1,000 teachers from Romania alone have worked in South Carolina schools over the last two decades.

What has this partnership meant for the students and teachers of South Carolina and Romania? Where might it lead in the future? This event is an open dialogue: panelists will share brief introductory thoughts in order to stimulate a discussion with the audience about the significance and possibilities created by this unique relationship.

Panelists

Dean Jon Pedersen, USC College of Education

Simona Baciú, Founder, Transylvania College, Cluj, Romania

Rick Palyok, Director, FACES, Inc.

Cristina Ondere, Teacher, Kershaw County Schools

Susan Shapiro, Open Society Institute in Central/Eastern Europe

Kara Brown, University of South Carolina

Nicoleta Hodis, Teacher, Hand Middle School

Sponsors

The University of South Carolina College of Education

The European Studies Program

The Columbia World Affairs Council

FACES, Inc.

COLUMBIA
WORLD AFFAIRS COUNCIL

FACES
Foreign Academic & Cultural Exchange Services, Inc.

Reception

A Reception for International Teachers in SC, 6:00-8:00pm (light food and drink to be served)

Arabesque Restaurant 2930 Devine St, Columbia, SC 29205 (Less than 3 miles from campus)

Co-sponsored by:

USC College of Education
The Columbia World Affairs Council
FACES, Inc.

Please RSVP via e-mail to Dickson Monk of the World Affairs Council:

dmonk@columbiaworldaffairs.org

www.sc.edu/education

The University of South Carolina is an equal opportunity institution.

UNIVERSITY OF
SOUTH CAROLINA
College of Education